

Lintec pronounces first participation at SMM to be a resounding success

UK based fuel analysis provider Lintec Testing Services Ltd has pronounced its first participation as SMM to be a resounding success. Eur Ing Maurice O'Donoghue, Lintec's Sales & Marketing Manager, said "participating at SMM gave us the opportunity to see our clients and also to meet ship owners and ship managers from around the world, some of whom were not familiar with us.

We knew that there is always a lot of activity at SMM and, while we had expected to be busy, the number of visitors to our stand was significantly higher than we had anticipated – with many wanting to learn more about our chemical screening programme.

Of course, after the game is before the game you might say, and we are already considering how we should approach SMM 2010. Certainly, if SMM 2008 is as successful as indications suggest, then Lintec will be quite a different company in two years time".
